JUNE 2011

Cookout & Fireworks Social by Brian Mills

Come one, come all to the annual fireworks social at the residence of Bailey Mills' parents. This is an annual event for the Nevada church, and this year Oak Grove is getting in on the fun.

The whole event kicks off at 6:00 pm with a pot-luck cookout on the lawn, followed by a special Vespers service with songs led by our very own Oak Grove Strings & Chorus.

After Vespers, you can walk up the hill to see quite possibly the very best fireworks show you've ever seen, or set your chair up on the lawn to watch from there.

Walking up the hill is highly recommended, though, as the view is far more spectacular from the top of the hill.

Now that you know what this event is all about, here's the rest of what you'll need to know:

- Bailey's parents live out in the country on a gravel road, so if you have bad allergies, you may want to bring along some allergy medication. You'll also want to bring some bug spray.
- Seating, both on the lawn at the house and at the fireworks show, is primitive, so you'll want to bring along lawn chairs or at least a blanket to sit on.

- Condiments and drinks will be provided for the cookout, but everything else is pot-luck, so bring something to eat.
- Contact Bailey or Brian Mills for directions and further information. Maps will be available after church the day of the cookout/fireworks show.

Melilot (Sweet Clover) by Colgene Gilbert

The name melilot, derives from "meli" meaning honey, and "lotus", meaning fodder or clover, hence the name sweet clover. A native of Europe, Asia, & North America, it was once a popular strewing herb and fodder crop, until replaced by the common clovers, trifolium pratense/red clover & trifolium repens/white dutch clover. All clovers belong to the bean/legume family, and attracts bees to the garden. It makes a delicious tea that is soothing to the nerves, and is also slenderizing.

Jethro Kloss, in his book "Back to Eden", says clover is one of God's blessings to man. It is excellent for cancer, whooping cough & various spasms.

Clover is one of the many wildings I use in a summer salad, along with biscuits made with clover blossoms substituting some of the flour. I use the following recipe:

Clover Biscuits

- 1 ¾ cups flour
 - ¼ - ½ cups dried or fresh clover blossoms
 - 3 tsp. baking powder
 - ½ tsp. salt
 - 4 tbsp. vegetable shortening
 - ¾ cups milk (any variety)
- Cut shortening into dry ingred., add milk, mix well, roll out & cut with biscuit cutter
- Bake in preheated 450 degree oven for 12-15 min & enjoy.
